- Total passenger traffic grew by 4.7 percent while International passenger traffic increased 30.8 percent.

MEXICO CITY, November 7, 2019 Interjet Airlines announced year-over-year passenger traffic results for October 2019. Reported highlights included:

- Overall passenger traffic for ten months ended October 2019 increased by 9 percent to over 12.4 million passengers.
- Total traffic for October 2019 was 1,226,363 passengers, an increase of 4.7 percent as compared to October 2018.
- International traffic rose 30.8 percent compared to October 2018 while domestic traffic decreased 4.2 percent for the same period.
- Overall load factors increased 4.0 percent to 84 percent year-over-year.
- RPK's (revenue passenger kilometers) grew 13.6 percent year-over-year
- ASK's (available seat kilometers) also increased by 8.4 percent for the same period

“Interjet continues to experience strong service demand setting record passenger growth internationally,” said Julio Gamero, Interjet’s Chief Commercial Officer. “Our recent service expansions and added frequencies are working with increased demand across our system. This combined with competitive prices, free checked bags on select fares, more legroom between seats and excellent on-board service continues to drive our international and domestic business,” he added.
